

Boxer Rebellion Cartoon Analysis Notes

FOREIGN RESPONSE TO THE BOXER REBELLION

Directions: Analyze each cartoon, then provide a brief description of what it shows, then your own analysis of what the cartoon's message is.

Cartoon	Description	Analysis
A	Uncle Sam and John Bull present a frightened Chinese Emperor with trade offers, while the Europeans stand by with weapons (1898).	The Americans and British wanted to exploit Chinese markets to sell goods – the “Open Door Policy”. This was believed to be more effective than attempts to conquer China by the Europeans.
B
C
D
E
F
G
H		