

Who really founded America's values?

The Equality Fighters

•• How much credit do these fighters deserve? ••

Across much of the world, and for essentially all of recorded world history, except for only the most recent decades, half of humankind has denied rights and voice to the other half. Additionally, immigrating groups have invaded conquered and oppressed indigenous groups throughout the globe. In both these crimes, the United States is not unique.

For each fighter, annotate for their efforts to ensure equality is practiced in America as well as for their effective use of ethos, logos, or pathos which helped persuade change. Then capture the essence of their efforts in a document analysis sentence below.
